

Demands for solar module project settlement

Overview

This chapter outlines some issues to consider when disputes first develop and discusses areas in which litigation may arise in the development and operation of a solar energy project. If you're involved in a lawsuit regarding your solar panel loan, you might be wondering: Do I get to review the settlement offer before anything is finalized?

This is a common concern among homeowners dealing with deceptive solar sales tactics and fraudulent financing agreements. In addition, regulatory litigation before state utilities commissions and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (“FERC”) can have profound effects on the viability of solar projects. Declines in residential solar markets have been a hit to the industry—but its foundation is strong. After several years of 30 percent annual growth in installations, 2024 saw a decline: fewer panels were installed in many. A $415,000 class action settlement will resolve a lawsuit alleging that Group Solar customers' 'welcome checks' fell short of the promised amount. This class action lawsuit, Ziccarello v. supply and demand, module and system price, investment trends and business models, and.
